DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stamires US 20030087750.

Stamires teaches a process of making quasi-crystalline boehmite by using a two-step process of pH adjustments, or in other words, "pH-swing" process (Paragraph 49). The first pH adjustment facilitates an acid peptization (Paragraph 48), which may be performed by adding nitric acid to a quasi-crystalline slurry until the slurry becomes translucent and the initial high viscosity is reduced (Paragraph 80). The acid peptization step would inherently lower the pH by at least two and to a level of below a pH of below 3 in order for the slurry to turn translucent.

The second step of peptization occurs by adding sodium hydroxide to the treated solution and raising the pH to 10 (Paragraph 82). Then the mixture is aged under hydrothermal conditions (Paragraph 84).

With respect to claims 2-4, the first pH adjustment facilitates an acid peptization (Paragraph 48), which may be performed by adding nitric acid to a quasi-crystalline slurry until the slurry becomes translucent and the initial high viscosity is reduced (Paragraph 80). The acid peptization step would inherently lower the pH by at least two and to a level of below a pH of below 3 in order for the slurry to turn translucent.

With respect to claim 7, the precursor may be aluminum trihydrate (Paragraph 43).

With respect to claim 8, the precursor may be milled (Paragraph 55).

With respect to claim 9, the product may be shaped by extrusion (Paragraph 75).

With respect to claim 10, additives may be added to the process before hydrothermal treatment (Paragraph 72).

With respect to claims 11 and 12, the process of Stamires may be performed continuously in two reaction vessels (Paragraph 66).

With respect to claim 13, the mixture may be aged for 2 hours (Paragraph 91).

With respect to claims 15-18, Stamires does not expressly state the particle size of the product. However, the particle size would inherently be the same as the claimed ranges in the instant claims 15-18, since the processes of making are identical. Where the claimed and prior art product(s) are identical or substantially identical, or are produced by identical or substantially identical process(es) the burden of proof is on applicant to establish that the prior art product(s) do not necessarily or inherently possess the characteristics of the instantly claimed product(s). MPEP 2112.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
